

How do humans solve the problem?

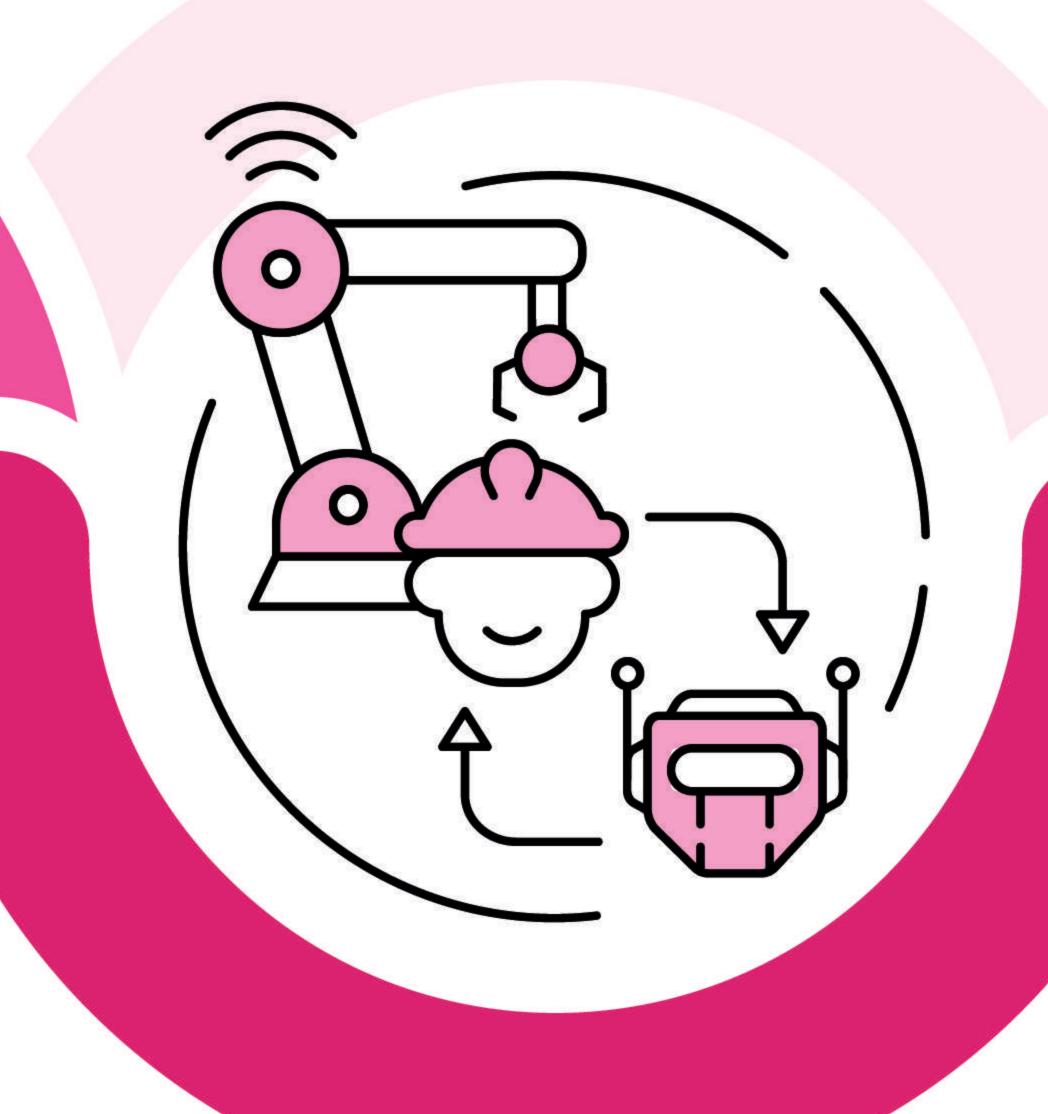

What system performance is expected?

What is the problem worth solving?

U3
What data is available for training?

O5
What is the scenario of use in production?

Is it likely to get to a reasonable business case with ML here?